1. Product Description

A Mini-Future Long enables investors to participate more than proportionately (with leverage) in the positive development of the Underlying. Conversely, investors also participate more than proportionately in the negative development of the Underlying and additionally bear the risk of losing their entire investment. If the Underlying reaches or falls below the Stop Loss Level, the Mini-Future expires immediately and investors are reimbursed a potential Cash Amount. Such amount depends on the market conditions for the Underlying after the Stop Loss Level has been reached. Because a Mini-Future does not have a fixed term, the Financing Level and Stop Loss Level do not remain constant during the life of the Mini-Future but are adjusted regularly.

Dates

Pricing Date, Issue Date	29 March 2019
Exercise Date	The first Business Day following the 7th calendar day of April of each calendar year.
Valuation Date	The date when (a) the Mini-Futures are exercised by the investor or (b) the Mini-Futures are redeemed by the Issuer or (c) the Final Reference Level is determined after a Stop Loss Event has occurred, if such a date is not a trading day for the Underlying, the next following trading day for the Underlying.
Redemption Date	The date on which the redemption becomes effective as specified in the notice given by the Issuer when exercising the Issuer Call Right.
Settlement Date	The fourth Business Day following the Valuation Date.
Business Day	A day on which the Trans-European Automated Real-time Gross Settlement Express Transfer (TARGET2) system is open and on which each relevant Clearing Agent settles payments. Saturday and Sunday are not considered Business Days.

Redemption and Settlement

Investor Exercise Right	Starting on the Issue Date, the investor is entitled to exercise the Mini-Future on each Exercise Date. The Agent in Switzerland must have received the corresponding exercise notice by 12.00 Zurich time.
Issuer Call Right	Starting on the Issue Date, the Issuer is entitled to early redeem the Mini-Future in whole, but not in part, by giving 4 weeks’ notice to the investors, specifying the Redemption Date.
Stop Loss Event	A Stop Loss Event occurs when in the determination of the Calculation Agent the price of the Underlying is at any time during the period between and including the Issue Date and the Valuation Date at or below the Stop Loss Level. A Stop Loss Event may occur at any time during the trading hours of the Underlying and potentially even outside the trading hours of the Mini-Future. Upon occurrence of a Stop Loss Event, the Mini-Future will expire automatically. A Stop Loss Event will override both the Issuer Call Right and the Investor Exercise Right.
Cash Amount	In case of Investor Exercise, Issuer Call or a Stop Loss Event for each Mini-Future, the following amount is paid back to the investor:

	(Final Reference Level – Financing Level) x Multiplier Such amount cannot be negative.
Final Reference Level	If in the determination of the Calculation Agent a Stop Loss Event has occurred, the Final Reference Level is determined by the Calculation Agent within three Underlying trading hours after the Stop Loss Event has occurred, based on the price for the Underlying. In case of exercise by the investor or call by the Issuer, the Final Reference Level is the closing price of the Underlying on the Valuation Date.
Financing Level	The Financing Level will be determined by the Calculation Agent on a daily basis commencing from the Initial Financing Level in accordance with the following formula: $$FL = FL_{AD} + \frac{(r + FS) \times FL_{AD} \times N}{365} - div$$ FL: Financing Level FL_{AD}: Financing Level from the immediately preceding Adjustment Date, only relevant for calculating the financing cost r: the prevailing interest rate for deposits in the Reference Currency as determined by the Calculation Agent on the Interest Rate Adjustment Date FS: the Financing Spread is initially equal to 3%. The Financing Spread is an interest margin set by the Calculation Agent. N: the number of calendar days between the immediately preceding Adjustment Date (excluding) and the current day (including) div: dividends or other cash distributions net of applicable taxes and other deductions as determined by the Calculation Agent on the day immediately preceding the day on which the Underlying is traded ex dividend.
Adjustment Date	Following (and excluding) the Issue Date, each of the following days: the first Business Day of each month and each day immediately preceding the day on which the Underlying is traded ex dividend or, if any such day is not a Business Day, the next following Business Day.
Interest Rate Adjustment Date	Following (and excluding) the Issue Date, the first Business Day of each month.
Stop Loss Level	The Stop Loss Level will be determined by the Calculation Agent on each Adjustment Date as the sum of the Financing Level on the Adjustment Date and the Stop Loss Adjustment Factor. The result of the calculation will be rounded upwards to whole 0.05 units.
Stop Loss Adjustment Factor	The initial Stop Loss Adjustment Factor is 5%. The Stop Loss Adjustment Factor may be reset at the reasonable discretion of the Calculation Agent between 2% and 20% on each Interest Rate Adjustment Date.

Tax Treatment in Switzerland

Swiss Federal Income Tax	For private investors residing in Switzerland and holding the Mini-Futures as private assets, the Mini-Futures are not subject to Swiss Income Tax.
Issue Stamp Duty	The Mini-Futures should not be subject to the Swiss Issue Stamp Duty.
Transfer Stamp Duty	No Swiss Transfer Stamp Duty on secondary market transactions.
Swiss Withholding Tax	Income derived from the Mini-Futures should not be subject to the Swiss Withholding Tax.
Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters	Switzerland has implemented the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("AEOI") as of 1st January 2017 with the EU and various other countries and is negotiating the introduction of the AEOI with further countries. The website "www.sif.admin.ch" provides an overview of all partner states Switzerland has signed an agreement for the introduction of the AEOI. In this context the EU Savings Tax for Swiss paying agents and the Final Withholding Tax with UK and Austria have been repealed as of 1st January 2017.

The above is a non-binding summary of the main tax consequences applicable to private investors resident in Switzerland and does not take special circumstances of investors into consideration. Tax laws and the tax authorities’ practice may change, possibly with retroactive effect. Investors should consult their own tax advisor. Deutsche Bank AG expressly excludes all liability in respect of any tax implications.

2. Prospects of Profits and Loss

Market expectation
Investors in a Mini-Future Long expect that the price of the Underlying will rise.

Profit Potential
A Mini-Future Long benefits more than proportionately from a positive performance of the Underlying. The profit potential for a Mini-Future Long is unlimited.

Loss potential
A Mini-Future Long loses value if the Underlying shows a negative performance. Investors may lose some of their invested capital if the Cash Amount is less than the purchase price of the Mini-Future Long paid by the investor. Investors may also lose all of their invested capital if the Final Reference Level is equal to or below the Financing Level. If the Underlying does not move, a Mini-Future Long loses value over time. A Mini-Future Long has no fixed maturity, but it expires automatically if the price of the Underlying reaches or falls below the Stop Loss Level. The Mini-Future Long is then redeemed at an amount which will be less than the invested capital and which could also be zero.

Market price determining factors during the term
In particular, the following factor has a negative effect on the price of the Mini-Future Long: a falling Underlying price. Conversely, this factor has a positive impact on the price of the Mini-Future Long.

3. Significant Risks for the Investors

Product specific risks
Due to the leverage effect, the value of the Mini-Future will fluctuate more than the value of the Underlying. An investment in a Mini-Future therefore bears a higher risk than a direct investment in the Underlying, not only because of the leverage effect but also because of the possibility of the occurrence of a Stop Loss Event. The Stop Loss Level is adjusted periodically. Investors in this product should be experienced investors being familiar with derivative products, leverage, the exchange rate and the Underlying.

Investors may lose their capital partially or in full, if the Mini-Future has to be redeemed early due to reasons beyond the control of the Issuer.

Market risks
An investment in the Mini-Future involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks.

An investment in the Mini-Future should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlying, and/or in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlying, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Mini-Future such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Mini-Future.

Secondary market risks
Under normal market conditions, Deutsche Bank AG intends but is not obliged to maintain a secondary market on a regular basis throughout the life of the Mini-Future. There is no obligation to provide bid and/or ask prices for a specific order or volume and there is no guarantee of a specific liquidity or of a specific market making spread. In extraordinary market situations or in the case of technical disruptions, it may be temporarily difficult or impossible to buy or sell the Mini-Future. Hence investors cannot rely on being able to purchase or sell the Mini-Future on a specific date or at a specific price.

Deutsche Bank AG may provide a secondary market and bid and ask prices for the Mini-Future taking into account prevailing market conditions. There will be a price difference between bid and ask prices (i.e. the spread). The bid and ask prices quoted by the Issuer during its term are based on the Issuer's internal pricing models. Accordingly, unlike in an on exchange trading, for example for shares, the prices quoted during the term are not based on supply and demand. The prices in particular contain a margin which the Issuer determines at its free discretion and which may cover, in addition to the Issuer’s proceeds, the structuring costs of the Mini-Future, any applicable sales costs and other costs. It is not possible to predict the price at which the Mini-Future will trade in the market.

Issuer risk
The value of the Mini-Future may depend not only on the performance of the Underlying, but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, which may change during the lifetime of the Mini-Future. The investor is exposed to the risk that the Issuer is unable to meet its obligations under the Mini-Future, for instance in the event of bankruptcy (inability to pay / over-indebtedness) or an official directive for resolution action. Such a directive may be issued if, for example, the Issuer's assets fall below the amount of its liabilities, the Issuer cannot, at present or in the near future, pay off its liabilities at maturity or requires extraordinary financial support, and may, among other things, result in a write-down or write-off of the claims arising from the Mini-Future or in conversion of the Mini-Future into shares of the Issuer. A total loss of the invested amount is possible. The Mini-Future is a debt security and as such not subject to any deposit protection.

Risk of termination and cancellation / Reinvestment risk
The Issuer may terminate the Warrant with immediate effect in the event of obvious written or mathematical errors in the Terms of the Warrant or if certain extraordinary events provided in the Terms of the Warrant occur. Extraordinary events are:

- changes, particularly in connection with the Underlying, which have a material effect on the objective ability or method of determination of the price or level of the Underlying or its theoretical economic value; these include in particular ceasing to calculate the Underlying and
- events, in particular due to changes in actual, economic, legal and tax conditions, which:
    - affect the Issuer's Hedging Arrangements and hinder it in meeting its obligations in connection with the Warrant;
    - cause a substantial adverse change for the Issuer in the basis of the calculation of the issue price of the Warrant.

Instead of immediate termination, the Issuer may also amend the terms and conditions. In case of immediate termination, investors receive payment of an amount equivalent to the market price to be determined by the Issuer at this time. This may also be significantly lower than the purchase price paid by the investor. The investor is exposed to the risk that the Warrant may be terminated at a time that is unfavorable for him and that he will be able to reinvest the amount received only on less favorable terms.

Ranking

Pursuant to Sec 46f (5) - (7) of the German Banking Act (Kreditwesengesetz, "KWG") certain unsecured and unsubordinated debt instruments of the Issuer (hereinafter referred to as "Non-Preferred Senior Obligations") rank below the Issuer’s other senior liabilities (hereinafter referred to as "Preferred Senior Obligations") in insolvency or in the event of the imposition of resolution measures, such as a bail-in, affecting the Issuer. This order of priority would apply in a German insolvency proceeding or in the event of the imposition of resolution measures with respect to the Issuer commenced on or after 1 January 2017, with effect for any senior unsecured debt instruments outstanding at this time. Among the Preferred Senior Obligations are, as defined in Sec 46f (7) KWG, senior unsecured debt instruments whose terms provide that (i) the amount of the repayment depends on the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event which is uncertain at the point in time when the senior unsecured debt instruments are issued, or settlement is effected in a way other than by monetary payment, or (ii) the amount of the interest payments depends on the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event which is uncertain at the point in time when the senior unsecured debt instruments are issued unless the amount of the interest payments solely depends on a fixed or floating reference interest rate, and settlement is effected by monetary payment. Unsecured and unsubordinated Securities issued under this Programme that do not meet the terms described in (i) or (ii) above, including fixed rate Securities and floating rate Securities linked to LIBOR or EURIBOR, are, therefore, expected to constitute Non-Preferred Senior Obligations that would bear losses in a German insolvency proceeding or in the event of the imposition of resolution measures before Preferred Senior Obligations. In a German insolvency proceeding or in the event of the imposition of resolution measures with respect to the Issuer, the competent resolution authority or court would determine whether unsecured and unsubordinated Securities issued under the Programme qualify as Preferred Senior Obligations or as Non-Preferred Senior Obligations. The German Federal Agency for Financial Market Stabilisation (FMSA), the German Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin) and the German central bank (Deutsche Bundesbank) published a joint interpretative guide on the classification of certain liabilities under Sec 46f (5)-(7) KWG (the “FMSA Guidance”).
