2. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until 30 November 2026. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to sell your product easily or may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

To the extent the currency of the country in which you purchase this product or your account currency differs from the product currency, please be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Inflation erodes the purchasing value of cash over time and this may result in the decline in real terms of any capital reimbursed or interest you may be paid under the investment.

You are entitled to receive back at least 100.00% of your capital. However, this protection against future market performance will not apply if you cash in before maturity or in case of immediate termination by the issuer.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

Performance scenarios

What you will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

Recommended holding period:		1 month
Example investment:		USD 10,000
Scenarios		If you exit after 1 month (Recommended holding period)
Minimum	USD 9,785. The return is only guaranteed if you hold the product to maturity. You could lose some or all of your investment.
Stress	What you might get back after costs Percentage return (not annualised)	USD 9,785 -2.1%
Unfavourable	What you might get back after costs Percentage return (not annualised)	USD 9,785 -2.1%
Moderate	What you might get back after costs Percentage return (not annualised)	USD 9,785 -2.1%
Favourable	What you might get back after costs Percentage return (not annualised)	USD 9,785 -2.1%

The favourable, moderate, unfavourable and stress scenarios represent possible outcomes that have been calculated based on simulations using the past performance of the reference rate over a period of up to 5 years. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances. This product cannot be easily cashed in. If you exit the investment earlier than the recommended holding period, you do not have a guarantee and you may have to pay extra costs.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

3. What happens if Deutsche Bank AG, Frankfurt is unable to pay out?

You are exposed to the risk that the issuer might be unable to fulfil its obligations in respect of the product – e.g. in the event of insolvency (inability to pay / over-indebtedness) or an administrative order of resolution measures. In case of a crisis of the issuer such an order can also be issued by a resolution authority in the run-up of an insolvency proceeding. In doing so, the resolution authority has extensive intervention powers. Among other things, it can reduce rights of the investors to zero, terminate the product or convert it into shares of the issuer and suspend rights of the investors. With regard to the basic ranking of the issuer's obligations in the event of action by the resolution
